

DESIGN INTENTIONS

The site has been transformed into a hostel that receives the most varied people. The project's focus is to work with sustainability through reuse timber mainly. And for that, the whole environment contributes to guests become aware of the importance of responsible use of natural resources without harming future generations. The facade and furniture are examples of this use of simple and parametric.